

August's (2022) KCDHH Spotlight Q&A is with Jayna Oakley, who is the Information Office Supervisor at KCDHH. Oakley's hometown is Lexington. She graduated from Bryan Station High School and was a member of the first girls' basketball team. She earned her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Kentucky. Oakley lives in Lexington.

What department do you work for and what is your role?

I work in the Information, Referral, and Advocacy department and am responsible for special printed publications and materials; writing and producing press releases, newsletters, and promotional materials; assisting with social media messaging; and internal/external communications and strategies.

How long have you been with KCDHH?

I have been with KCDHH for six years.

What have been your biggest accomplishments in your department?

A notable achievement this year was taking our printed newsletter to an e-version and producing more timely information.

What is the most unique part about working at KCDHH?

For me, working with so many unique individuals, many of them deaf, and learning to communicate with them.

What is a hobby or talent you might want to share?

I enjoy spending time with my family when they have time. I also love photography and making crafts.
