Strategic Plan

Kentucky Commission on the Deaf and Hard of Hearing

KCDHH's consumers are those Kentuckians who have a hearing loss which affects their daily lives. Individuals' chosen modes of communication do not affect the services and referrals provided by the agency. KCDHH works to ensure the right of all individuals with a hearing loss to equal access to communication and services regardless of the communication method.

Services are provided through the Offices of Equitable Access (telecommunications equipment distribution and interpreting and captioning services) and Information Services (advocacy and referrals). The Offices of Administrative Support and Information Technology work with levels of government and private industries to ensure proper policies and procedures are in place to positively affect KCDHH constituents and to ensure they have necessary technological access to that information. KCDHH is comprised of these four instrumental offices and the Commission Board, who work collectively for the greater good of Kentucky's deaf and hard of hearing residents by adhering to the following agency initiatives.
